COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

MONDAY EVENING, JUNE 29.

THE way in which the rains are holding off on this side of India is beginning to cause considerable anxiety. During the past week we have only had a few light showers, and the heavy rains in Bombay to-day is the first sizeable one. Sowing operations have been at the same time far later this year, while it was also a late one to begin with, the average quantity of rain during the past twenty years being over 20 inches. The smaller June rainfall on record is that of 1843, when 9·33 inches fell, so that the weather has been exceptional. It does not follow that a late season is necessarily a bad one, in fact we do not fear that any actual harm has yet been done, for it is perfectly possible that a late fall may be followed by favorable weather, but still the position is sufficiently critical to make careful [illegible] people cautious about committing [illegible] to forward transactions of any importance. The import trade is being governed by extreme caution in consequence. Now is there any commercial activity in exports as is sometimes the case, on the contrary, although the dryness of the weather has prevented any interruption to shipping operations even in the stream, adverse advices from the European markets have held business quite in check, while supplies too have been small. Regarding Cotton the latest telegrams from home look more hopefully, but the stock here is scarcely likely to prove sufficient for our own requirements let alone admitting of [illegible]. Piece-goods are steady, considering the dulness of the shipping trade, owing to the scarcity of tonnage created by the stoppage of traffic in the Suez Canal lately. But 17s. 6d. for Wheat and 20s. for measurement are the current rates for steamers on the Liverpool berth, and open charter cannot be quoted over 22s. 6d. per ton. Money is becoming easier daily, and Government Paper is advancing accordingly, while Sterling Exchange shows but a weak front. Shares are firm but not very active, the speculative element being rather inclined to quietness at the moment.

MONEY.—A further reduction of 1 per cent. per annum was made in the Bank of Bombay's rates of interest and discount at the usual board meeting on Wednesday last, making the official minimum 4 per cent. per [illegible] in the open market borrowers have been easily suited, and there are more lenders than borrowers at that. From this point, however, it is not probable that any further reduction will be made, although the surroundings of the market may continue to favour cheaper money, as capitalists here generally prefer to keep their funds unemployed rather than feel below 2 per cent.

The Bank of Bombay return for the week ending on Saturday shows the following changes:—

Public Deposits at H. O.	Dec.	Rs. 2,38,294
Do. do. Branches	Dec.	9,000
Other Deposits	Inc.	14,63,564
Govt. Securities	Inc.	39,766
Loans	Dec.	4,31,572
Bills Discounted	Dec.	4,924
Cash with Correspondents	Inc.	80,355
Cash and Currency Notes	Dec.	14,54,168

As compared with the corresponding date last year the leading features of the Bank's position are as follows:—

	1884.	1885.
Public Deposits	58½ lakhs.	57½ lakhs.
Other Deposits	181 "	196 "
Government Securities	50½ "	48½ "
Cash Credits	13 "	26½ "
Loans	73 "	24 "
Bills Discounted	129 "	119 "
Cash Balance	76½ "	151½ "

These figures afford most conclusive evidence not only of the existing dulness in regular trade but also of the absence of demand for money for speculative purposes. With only about 8 lakhs less of public money in hand than last year the Bank has 59 lakhs less out in accommodation, and so long as Government keeps out of the market as borrowers there is no quarter from which any important demand for money can be expected for [illegible] siderable time to come.

EXCHANGE.—Supported by the tenor of the advices from Calcutta, the market for Sterling opened for bills mail with quite a firm appearance, the quotations on Wednesday being 1s. 6 15-16d. for demand Bank Bills both ready and forward and 1s. 7 1-16d. for 3 months' sight Credits. Owing, however, to the biddings for Council drafts in London resulting less favourably than had been anticipated, a weaker tendency set in on Thursday with a decline of 1-32d., followed by a further reduction of 1-32d. on Friday, and on Saturday by a decline of 1-16d. in Bank and 1-32d. in private paper. This was the lowest level reached at 1s. 6 13-16d. for demand Bank Bills and 1s. 6 31-32d. for 3 months' Credits. We opened nominally at these figures this morning, but the Banks showing more willingness to sell than to buy a recovery of 1-32d. took place, making closing quotations:—

Bank Bills on demand	1s. 6 27-32d.	per rupee.
Do. Telegraphic Transfer	1s. 6 13-16d.	"
Do. 3 months' sight	1s. 6 15-16d.	"
Do. 4 "	1s. 6 31-32d.	"
Do. 6 "	1s. 7 1-32d.	"
Credits 4 "	1s. 7d.	"
Do. 6 "	1s. 7¼d.	"
Documents 3 "	1s. 7 3-32d.	"
Do. 6 "	1s. 7 5-32d.	"
Francs 3 "	2⅛	"
Do. 6 "	2⅛	"

At the moment the tone is fairly steady and the surface indications of the market point rather to higher [illegible] do. do. [illegible] and the rates for a temporary charterer, as the main influences by which the value of the rupee must in the long run be governed present no new features, but on the contrary foreshadow perhaps as low but none the less steady decline. Calcutta no doubt exercises more influence than Bombay at the moment, but there as well as here money is easy; exports give no promise of coming activity; whilst there are fair probabilities of a larger business ensuing in imports.

GOVERNMENT PAPER.—During the greater portion of the week the demand for Paper has been active with steadily advancing rates, but just at the close a somewhat weaker tendency has been apparent. Fours closed in Monday last at Rs. 96⅞, but on Mail day advanced to Rs. 97¼, on Wednesday to Rs. 97⅜, on Thursday to Rs. 97 13-16, on Friday to Rs. 97 15-16, and on Saturday after touching Rs. 98 closed at Rs. 98¼. To-day heavy tenders against contracts maturing to-morrow brought out free selling on the part of speculators, anxious to secure their profit without taking delivery, and business was done as low as Rs. 97 11-16, but at the close we quote Rs. 97⅝. Four-and-a-half advanced during the week from Rs. 99¾ to Rs. 100¾ and close at Rs. 100¾.

The reaction which has taken place to-day is as we have said, mainly attributable to the monthly settlement, but an advance influence was also at work in a very general feeling that at Rs. 98¼ upwards for Fours the market was simply paving the way for a rupee loan. This idea will act as a continual check on the market, and with all the more force of the rains continue to hold off as they are now doing.

SHARES are generally firm although there is by no means a large business passing in them. Money is cheap enough to foster speculation, but with a late monsoon and other leading industry in a much less prosperous condition than could be wished operators act with considerable caution. In Spinning and Weaving Mills the feeling was very strong in the early part of last week, and rates generally advanced Rs. 10 to Rs. 20 for some days consecutively. Within the past few days however a backward movement has prevailed, and a considerable portion of the advance has been lost. The only concerns actually showing a decline however, are Khandeish which are Rs. 10, and Manockjee Petit Rs. 5 down. Bombay United have advanced Rs. 40, Hyderabad Rs. 30, Mahalukshmi, Victoria, and Western India Rs. 25, Southern India Rs. 20, Alliance and Budnaira Rs. 15, Khatoo Muckonjee Rs. 12½, City, Hindustan and Oriental Rs. 10, and Mazagon Rs. 2½ per share. Other companies are the same as quoted a week ago. Press companies have generally tended easier, the result of last season's working having in most cases been comparatively poor owing to the shortness of the crop whilst the present aspect of things is not favorable as regards the future. In Berars and Khangaum there has been a decline of Rs. 15, in Bombay Rs. 7½, in Prince of Wales Rs. 5, and in New Indian Rs. 2½ per share. Amongst Banks the only noticeable movement is in Bank of Bombays which have recovered Rs. 7½ to Rs. 742½ per share. In the Miscellaneous list the chief fluctuation has been in Bombay-Burmah Trading Company's shares which are Rs. 150 higher in old, Rs. 15 in new. Bombay Flour Mills have changed hands at Rs. 660 which is the closing rate.

IMPORTS.

PIECE-GOODS.—Owing to the interruption of traffic in the Suez Canal we have had no additions our stocks of late, and sellers have accordingly [illegible] to maintain their prices for ready business, not [illegible] transactions of the week however, have not been large, the off-take being only estimated at about 2,500 packages, and the general tone of the market is decidedly weak. The chief, and in fact we might say the only cause of that, is the unfavorable aspect of the season which is rendering dealers exceptionally cautious in their movements. With favorable rains there can be little doubt that the position is one of considerable promise to importers, as we start on a low list of prices, and stocks in the interior are believed to be very moderate after the small buying of the past season. Absence of rain however would more than counterbalance these influences, and we cannot look for the market improving whilst the present uncertainty lasts.

Of Local makes the sales during the week are estimated at about 2,000 packages on the basis of former rates, say As. 6½ to As. 7½ per lb. for T. Cloths and Domestics.

TWIST.—For English Yarns we have to report a quiet stock market with only a small business passing at about former prices. For Local yarns the enquiry is dull, and sales have been made as a reduction of in some cases 1-16 anna per lb. Current quotations are given as follows for local spinning:—

Mule Twist	No. 10s	As. 6 10 to 6 11
" and Water	" 20s	" 6 3-16 to 6 5-16
" "	" 24s	" 6 7-16 to 6 7½
" "	" 30s	" 6 9½ to 6 11½

DETAILS.—Copper is firm, and business has been done at an advance of As. 4 to As. 8 per cwt., but [illegible] on the spot being Rs. 30½ to Rs. 35½. Yellow Metal is also As. 4 to As. 8 higher at Rs. 29 to Rs. 29½ per cwt. for Braziers [illegible] from there is no change to notice. The tone of the market is quite, but rates are mostly unaltered.

COAL.—There is nothing whatever doing in the article to arrive, importers quoting about Rs. 15, buyers about Rs. 13 for Cardiff or West Hartley. In respect a ship cargo of Australian was sold at Rs. 11-8 and some retailers of Cardiff were affected at Rs. 12; per ton alongside.

EXPORTS.

COTTON.—With stronger accounts from Liverpool by wire during the past two days we have had a steadier tone apparent here, but so far there has been no improvement in the home demand, and there is consequently been next to nothing doing to report while prices are all unchanged.

The weather offers no hindrance to shipments either in the dock or stream, but the small arrivals from the districts and the limited stocks on the spot afford little room for exporters to operate even if they had any inducement. The dealers' estimate the existing stocks of Cotton in godown at 1,08,000 bales made up as follows, against which we give the estimated holdings at the same time last year:—

	1885.	1884.
Dholleras, Bhownuggur	32,500 bales	60,000 bales.
Varavul, Cutch, &c.	71,000 "	14,000 "
Omras, Julgaum, Barsi, &c.	32,500 "	50,000 "
Compta, Vingorla & Westerns	17,500 "	26,000 "
Bengals	12,000 "	6,000 "
Broach	2,000 "	4,000 "
Dharwar	1,000 "	2,000 "
Persians, &c.	2,500 "	8,000 "
Total	1,08,000	2,00,000

The stocks held by the local Mills are probably larger than at the same time last year, but the consumption has been considerably increased in the internal, and when we further take into account the fact that there is practically no crop of Westerns it will be seen that the prospects of shipments hence during the remainder of the year are the reverse of encouraging, no matter almost what prices may be.

The moments of Cotton to date show the following Comparisons with the two previous years:—

	1885.	1884.	1883.

Westerns, Good do.	" 190	= 4½d.
Do. F. G. F. do.	" 188	= 4d.

WHEAT.—A fair demand has prevailed for export to complete June shipments, but with small supplies from the districts sellers have been unwilling to contract at all freely, and only a small business has resulted. For Soft Red qualities prices have been run up to an absurd figure owing to the failure of sellers to deliver against previous contracts, but Soft White and Delhi qualities are practically unchanged. We quote now Ekdani Rs. 25½ to Rs. 25¾, Jubulpore Rs. 24, Laskari Rs. 21, Khatha Rs. 21, Red Pessy Rs. 24½, and Ahmedabad Soft Red Rs. 25½ to Rs. 26 per candy, bazaar terms.

SEEDS.—Linseed is still arriving to a fair extent for this time of year, but with a fair enquiry rates have been maintained at Rs. 6 to Rs. 6-1 per cwt. Rapeseed proves to be one of the largest crops [illegible] being still in liberal supply. We quote Yellow Guzerat Rs. 5-15 to Rs. 6, Brown Cawnpore Rs. 4-14 per cwt. Of Gingelly supplies are nearly at an end. Rates nominally are Rs. 37 to Rs. 40 per Candy according to quality.

The Comparative imports of wheat and seeds are as follows:—

The Bombay Gazette

TUESDAY, JUNE 30, 1885.

OUR commercial correspondent, when noting on Saturday last that the four per cent. Government paper had gone up to Rs. 97 15-16, and that four-and-a-half per cent. paper was at a half per cent. premium, stated that were it not for the hidden fear of a new loan the former would be now over par. That the public confidence is reviving is shown by the fact that even with this fear of a loan the Government four per cent. paper had yesterday reached 98¼. Yesterday, indeed, there was a temporary fall, but the recovery was speedy. All apprehensions of war are now at an end, and not even the accession to office of the statesman who a few weeks ago denounced the arrangement with Russia as something "terrible" has caused the public any real anxiety on this score. The time has come when we may begin to estimate the financial results of the recent crisis with a view to ascertaining to what extent the monetary position of the Government has been affected. We can then judge whether the secret fear of a new loan, to say nothing of the increased taxation, is justified by existing circumstances. It is well, of course, to observe the rule not to halloo till we are out of the wood. But, assuming that the difficulty with Russia is for the present closed, and will probably not be re-opened, in the present year of grace at all events, we may count the cost of the recent preparations, and form a fair estimate of the general situation. When it became necessary to make preparations for war, an expenditure of some three millions sterling was regarded as necessary, and the Government sanctioned an outlay to that amount. Two-thirds of the money was actually expended before the negotiations took a peaceful turn. As soon as there was reason to believe that war would be averted, the exceptional expenditure was checked, and it will probably be found that little more than two millions and a quarter have been spent upon the military preparations. This reduces the actual excess expenditure in this direction by a considerable sum. But when a larger expenditure was calculated upon, the Government of India at once cut down the expenditure of the Public Works Department by the sweeping amount of nearly eight hundred and fifty thousand pounds. This heroic example of patriotic economy was pressed upon the attention of the local Governments, which consented to reductions to even a greater amount. In the result the total saving falls little short of two millions of money; that is to say, it comes within a measurable distance of the amount spent on the military preparations. The cost of railway material for the Bolan Railway must, however, be added to the expenditure. That is an item of half a million. Other charges in connection with the Soudan Rues at their worst may be set down at some two hundred thousand pounds more. Whether the cost of the artillery, the rifles, and the ammunition presented to the Amir of Afghanistan comes into the current expenditure we cannot say; but as they were taken from the stores in the arsenals, they would represent book debt, rather than actual outlay, which would require to be met by cash down. The Amir when at Rawal Pindi refrained from preferring any request for further assistance in money. The story that he had asked for a crore of rupees to enable his troops to fight the Russians was quite unfounded. Possibly it may be necessary to help His Highness with money to enable him to strengthen his north-western frontier, but it is not probable that any heavy subsidy will be either asked or given. Balancing the extra expenditure for military preparations and on the strategic railways, against the economy of nearly two millions, the deficit in the current year's budget will be about a million sterling. The question, then, will be, how is this deficit to be made good? There has been some anticipation of an increase of taxation in order to fill the void which was supposed to exist, but when it was found that a million sterling is all that is required to re-establish the equilibrium the necessity for imposing new taxes disappears. Most of this million of money is really expended on capital account, and ought not to be charged to revenue. The expenditure on the Bolan and the Pishin Railways, and the eight or nine lakhs to be laid out in replacing the Persian Gulf cable, clearly ought not to be paid for out of revenue. It has been already decided to raise the usual annual loan of two-and-a-half millions for public works in England this year. By adding a million to that amount the deficit in the Budget will be covered. The reasons which induced the Government to resort to the English market for the two-and-a-half million loan are equally valid in the case of the additional million which was expended during the recent crisis. It comes to this, then, the deficit is only a third of what was anticipated. The sum being so small when taken in connection with the fact that most of it was spent on capital account, and that the revenue ought not to be burdened with it, there should be this year no extra taxation. A small addition to the loan operations in London will square matters for the time being. So far we have got out of the affair very cheaply, and have no cause of complaint.

When the next Budget comes to be shaped, the necessity for providing a permanent addition to our military expenditure may possibly have to be faced. If the Government of India do not see their way to a corresponding relief in other directions, the question of increasing the revenue must be considered. Except the Government cut down the public works expenditure permanently below the admitted needs of the country, it is not easy to see where a saving could be effected which would pay for any increase of the military strength of the country. A licence-tax has been spoken of; but that impost is so unpopular by reason of the inquisitorial character of the scrutiny into private affairs which it authorises, that we sincerely hope it will not be re-introduced into India. It would be much better to extend the licence-tax to professional men and to those in the service of the Government. We have heard it suggested that it should be remodelled, and while being levied on a graduated scale on incomes up to two thousand per annum it should after that be assessed on income say, two per cent., while leaving incomes of seven or eight hundred rupees per annum free. The former would yield a crore of rupees more than is at present realised by the licence-tax, and the latter about two lakhs. The difference would be made up by some three or four thousand additional assessments over two thousand rupees. The [illegible] State would be very trifling, while the [illegible] with the amount of vexation and annoyance which the imposition of the present income-tax would create when the [illegible] hauling the books of [illegible] thousand families [illegible] twenty-five [illegible]
